

Z Notes – April 2011

A Message from Zia McCabe

"Hi, I'm Zia McCabe I've been playing in a local band, the Dandy Warhols, for over 15 years now. I've seen the local music scene change and grow a lot in that time. One of the great things about our city and music scene growing are the increased opportunity for local support. Now, along with more local venues and festivals than ever, this year we will have a radio station dedicated to airing local music. KZME is looking forward to supporting the thriving talent in the northwest. Let's make this a reality. Help us buy a new transmitter and build a studio. Your support is greatly needed and appreciated." Donate here: <http://www.kzme.fm/donate-now/>

Community Spotlight: Gulfsongs Oregon

In commemoration of the anniversary of the biggest single environmental disaster in US history, the BP Oil Spill in the Gulf of Mexico, Gulfsongs Oregon and PDX 2 Gulf Coast present a concert and the premiere of the short documentary film, Beyond the Spill at the Alberta Rose Theatre on Wednesday, April 20th. There will also be an update on the current state of economic recovery, coastal wetlands clean-up and restoration efforts, and what we in the Northwest can do to help. More information can be found at <http://gulfsongsoregon.org/>

Event Spotlight: Mississippi Studios Session

April 22 - with y la bamba, Dark Dark Dark and Why Are We Building Such A Big Ship - 21+

Show spotlight: Trixie Pop

A mostly indie, mostly pop show hosted by Dennise M. Kowalczyk. Thursdays - 5 pm to 6 pm. She also is a contributor to our blog and you can check out her Local Artist Speaks series at <http://kzmeradio.blogspot.com/p/local-artist-speaks.html>.

Band spotlight: Ravishers

Portland, Oregon's indie-pop outfit Ravishers will be releasing their debut, self-titled full-length on Timber Carnival Records. Three years in the making, Ravishers is a follow up to the EP, "Singles for Singles." The album is the creation of writer/frontman Dominic Castillo and lead guitarist Jonathan Barker, the core band, with an assorted cast of musicians. The show is April 7, 2011 at Doug Fir Lounge and will include Derby and Red Jacket Mine. Tune in to 107.1 fm April 30th at 4pm to hear Ravishers perform live Hello Cruel World.

Partner spotlight: Kimberli Ransom Photography

Kimberli Ransom Photography is one of the Pacific Northwest's premier family photography studios. Her work specializes in fine art for your family as well as commercial and marketing photography. More information can be found at <http://kimberliransom.net/>